

FLORALS FANTASTICA

October 18-20, 2019, 9-5 each day
at the Sanford Garden Club

Florals Fantastica™ is a new event for the Sanford Garden Club. It includes attractive plant displays (Towers of Caladiums, World of Variegation, Boomeliads, Hortus Exotica, and many more), floral artwork for sale in an online auction, special plants for sale (with an emphasis on those that are in bloom, unusual, or hard-to-find), and floral beverages such as nam dok anchan (Thai color-changing tea). A plant raffle will feature a number of free plants that will be awarded to attendees who use their ticket stub to enter.

The admission fee for attending this event is $5 per person. Admission tickets (purchased at the door) will be good for personal re-entry over the course of the event and for free plant raffles. Attendees are encouraged to bring a camera or smartphone: you will want to take lots of pictures!

FLORALS FANTASTICA ART AUCTION

Florals Fantastica™ will have on display seven Bromeliad covers that are available for sale in an online art auction. These Bromeliad covers are pen and ink drawings by Morris Henry Hobbs (1892-1967) that were used as front covers of The Bromeliad Society Bulletin from 1959 to 1963. That publication is now known as the Journal of The Bromeliad Society and continues to be published (1951 to date) by the Bromeliad Society International, which was founded in 1950.

The pictures online at <https://www.32auctions.com/sgc2019> don't fully reveal how magnificent these are. You really have to see them in person to fully appreciate them. Bromeliad artwork of this quality rarely comes on the market (42 years in private hands in this case). This is your chance to possibly acquire one or more of them.
